play

The words “play” and “seacoast” are practically synonymous. There’s no point in being on the seacoast without spending time playing outdoors.

What to do? The possibilities are endless and there is something for everyone.

Passively on the Water

Of course, the foremost thing to consider when on the seacoast is playing on the ocean. Several opportunities are available for getting out on the water. If you want to just relax, cruise and see/hear about local history, get tickets for the Thomas Lighton (islesofshoals.com) or Portsmouth Harbor Cruises (portsmouthharbor.com) where you can find scheduled cruises or the Portsmouth Water Taxi (portsmouthwatertaxi.com) which is available on request to take you where you want to go. Spend a couple of hours in a unique environment at the restored historic Wood Island Life Saving Station at the edge of Pepperrell Cove; book a trip (half hour each way with one hour on the island) through Portsmouth Harbor Cruises. Whale watching tours take place all summer through Al Gauron Deep Sea Fishing and Whale Watching (algauron.com) in Hampton and Granite State Whale Watching (granitestatwhalewatch.com) in Rye. The Gundalow Company (gundalow.org) offers a true historical experience with a sail on their replica gundalow, The Piscataqua.

Actively on the Water

Rent kayak or stand-up paddle boards at Portsmouth Kayak Adventures (portsmouthkayak.com in New Castle), Seven Rivers Paddling (sevenriverspaddling.com at Portsmouth Marina) and Esther's Marina (esthersmarina.com, in Portsmouth's South End). Channel the surfer in you at Cinnamon Rainbows (cinnamonrainbows.com) in North Hampton or Summer Sessions (newhampshiresurf.com) in Portsmouth.

Bicycling of all Types

Cycling is big on the seacoast. Bicycle lanes are common. Check out Seacoast Area Bicycle Riders (seacoastbikes.org) for events they organize or join the Granite State Wheelers (gswheelers.org) for some great member rides. The Seacoast Greenway Rail Trail (nhseacoastgreenway.org) is an eight-plus mile hardpack rail trail with an easy to medium rating going from Portsmouth to Seabrook. If you don't have your bike with you, that's no problem! Papa Wheelies Bicycle Shop (papa-wheelies.com), Ocean Rental (oceans.rentals) Port City Bike Tours (portsmouthnhhistoricalbiketours) and Colonial Bicycle Company (colonialbicycle.com) will be happy to rent you one!

Disc or Mini Golf, You Decide

If disc golf is your jam, there is no lack of courses in the area. Dover has the Bellamy Park Disc Golf course (bellamyparkdiscgolf.com), an 18-hole course with random doubles and Tag leagues. If you are willing to venture to Rochester, check out the Squamagonic Disc Golf Course at 53 Hansonville Road in Gonic. Also an 18-hole course, this space is open Monday through Thursday. See their Facebook page for details. Just south of the border in Amesbury, Massachusetts, is the Amesbury Pines Disc Golf Course at 140 Friend Street; contact Amesbury Recreation (978-388-8137) for more information. Maybe you and the kids prefer mini-golf to disc golf.

INSIDER SCOOP

You're in luck! Visit Sagamore Golf Center in North Hampton, Captain's Cove Adventure Golf or Buc's Lagoon, both in Hampton, and TOUR Golf & Grill in Portsmouth for mini-golf fun. Hilltop Fun Center (hilltopfuncenter.com) just on the Dover/Somersworth line, also has a top-rated mini golf course. There are several great skateboard parks in the area. Portsmouth's Skate Park (portsmouthnh.gov/recreation/skate-park) at 305 Greenland Road, Portsmouth, is open dawn to 10pm. Guppey Park in Dover is home to a 10,700 square foot skate park with lights for night skating. Hampton (Hardardt's Way) and Newmarket (1 Terrace Drive), York (40 Robert Stevens Rd) and Eliot (27 Dixon Rd) in Maine, also have skate parks.

Art Walks

Portsmouth's Art Round Town

(goportsmouthnh.com has a list of galleries and walking map) and Dover Art Walk (dovermainstreet.org) both happen on the first Friday of every month from 5-8pm. A glass of wine, art and exercise in between galleries, how could you go wrong? You could also walk across the lovely Memorial Bridge from Portsmouth to Kittery and visit the Kittery Art Association (kitteryartassociation.org), Buoy Gallery (2 Government St) and David Lussier Gallery (davidlussiergallery.com) all in Kittery Foreside, Wallingford Square.

Walking Through History

The Black Heritage Trail

(blackheritagetrailnh.com) is a great self-guided tour. Using your smartphone it starts at the site of the African Burying Grounds just off State Street in town and is a moving introduction to African history in New Hampshire. It doesn't have to be Halloween to enjoy ghost stories on a smartphone-guided tour of Portsmouth. Check out goportsmouthnh.com for these and other tours. Dover also has guided tours; go to dovernh.org/historic-walking-tours. For some history unique to the area, Albacore Park (ussalbacore.org) is a National Historic Landmark and a tribute to the 1953 research vessel (which is on site and open for tours of the submarine!). This has always been a go-to visit but even more so with recent renovations to the grounds. 📍

Wiggly Bridge

Wind your way along Route 103 through Kittery Point and you will come to the Wiggly Bridge in York Harbor. The "smallest suspension bridge" in the world, it is nicely maintained and leads to a loop trail through Steedman Woods Nature Preserve along the Barrell's Millpond. There is limited roadside parking.

NH Art Association WC Gallery

The New Hampshire Art Association's Robert Lincoln Levy Gallery (136 State Street, Portsmouth) makes efficient use of their space including the bathroom! View the rotating (and irregularly scheduled) exhibits in the WC Gallery that feature artists exploring innovative ideas and taking creative risks. And don't forget to look up! (Nhartassociation.org).

Salt Pump Portsmouth

Salt Pump Portsmouth, a bouldering facility made by and for climbers. With "Try Hard and Laugh Often" as their mantra, they strive to serve their community by always reflecting the core values of the outdoors world. (saltpumpclimbing.com)

eat

Seafood defines seacoast fare but meat eaters and vegetarians have plenty of options as well.

Let's face it, there probably isn't a restaurant in the seacoast area where you couldn't find fish or shellfish somewhere in its offerings.

Classic seafood can always be found at Newick's Lobster House on Dover Point Road, long a local standard and self-described as "traditional New England seafood served in a sprawling, laid-back local on the waterfront. The Dinnerhorn (dinnerhorn.com) on Route 1 in Portsmouth is locally owned and operated and offers the classic seafood fare—fried haddock, Maine lobster, broiled seafood, they have you covered. BG's Boathouse & Marina (bgsboathouse.com), technically in Portsmouth but on the edge of New Castle, is a hidden seafood-focused gem—seafood, a pub, decks, how can you go wrong? Wander down Route 1A along the New Hampshire coastline and you will discover The Beach Plum (thebeachplum.net) with locations in Portsmouth and North Hampton serving up lobster rolls and ice cream cones—what's not to love? Petey's Summertime Seafood & Bar (peteys.com) in Rye is a summer hot spot for seafood including boiled lobster and lobster rolls.

Tucked away in Dover on Cochecho Street is Castaways Boathouse (follow them on Facebook), restaurant, tiki bar and riverfront deck and regular live music. Cross into Maine and in Kittery you will find boiled lobster, fried clams and fish chowder at The Weathervane (weathervaneseafoods.com—also has a Dover location) and Bob's Clam Hut (bobsclamhut.com), both on Route 1 amidst the outlets, as well as the unique Chauncey Creek Lobster Pier (chaunceycreeklobsterpier.com) on Chauncey Creek Road (think picnic tables and BYOB) and Frisbie's Wharf at Pepperrell Cove (pepperrellcove.com) on Route 103, both in Kittery Point. Buoy Shack (buoyshack.com) is a sweet little eating spot near the Memorial Bridge on the Kittery side with lobster rolls, oysters, and fried fish sandwiches all made from locally sourced seafood; look for the wall of colorful buoys. Robert's Maine Grill & Raw Bar (robertsmainegrill.com) overlooking Spruce Creek at the outlets in Kittery has an upscale local hangout feel; you won't be disappointed by the menu including entrees like a "Haddock Reuben." Also in Kittery is The Blue Mermaid Island Grill (bluemermaid.com) with seafood-heavy Caribbean dishes on the menu.

Top: Fosters Clam Bake, York ME
Bottom: Jumpin Jay's Fish Café, Portsmouth, NH

Lobster in the Rough on Route 1 in York is another classic boiled lobster spot—what they call "the laid-back Maine experience." (lobsterintheroughyorkmaine.com)

Drive a little farther up the coastline to York and you'll find The York River Landing (theyorkriverlanding.com) overlooking the York River, with a large bar, ample seating, an oyster bar, lots of seafood and an ice cream stand off the parking area. The Cape Neddick Lobster Pound (pepperslanding.com) is now a Pepper's Landing restaurant; known for their locally sourced seafood and lobster-pound casual atmosphere, you can get all manner of seafood here.

INSIDER SCOOP

In downtown Portsmouth, visit The Old Ferry Landing for a frozen daiquiri with a traditional seafood meal that is a summertime ritual for locals and highly recommended for vacationers.

The River House (riverhouse53bow.com) on Bow Street is open seven days a week (first-come, first-serve/no reservations); think seafood chowder, lobster artichoke dip, crab cakes, lobster rolls, mussels and other seafood fare as well as salads and burgers for the non-seafood eaters in your group. New England Fishmongers (newenglandfishmongers.com) in Kittery, self-described as “half-market, half-eatery” (beer and wine available) is where you can sit for lunch (including outdoors in the warmer months) or get something to go while also purchasing locally sourced seafood to cook at home.

Almost every restaurant in Portsmouth serves some kind of seafood. Look for classic fare as well as modern takes on traditional recipes at The Atlantic Grill in Rye (theatlanticgrill.com), Jumpin’ Jay’s Fish Café in Portsmouth’s Market Square (jumpinjays.com) and The Water View Grill (waterviewgrillnh.com).

Sushi spots are plentiful in the area. Nichinan (nichinanrestaurant.com) is the newest Japanese restaurant to join the Portsmouth scene; contemporary Japanese fare tucked in beside the lovely Hotel Thaxter. Surf (surfseafood.com) at 99 Bow Street and Domo Japanese Restaurant (domoportsmouth.com) at 96 State Street serve up classic sushi and sashimi as well as their own interesting twists like mango maki. Ikkō in both Portsmouth (ikkoportsmouth.com) on Route 1 and in Dover (ikkodover.com) on Central Avenue have sushi bars, hibachi tables and regular tables. 📍

Fat Dog

Diner-like, comfortable and delicious, the Fat Dog (99 Oak Street, Dover) has a menu as interesting as its décor. Not only can you get traditional Shukshaka but it is part of other dishes as well. Breakfast (served all day) griddle dishes are a meal and a half. Lunch starts at 10:30.

Mamma Luca

Step into this State Street hot spot which joins a long tradition of great Italian restaurants in Portsmouth, this pizzeria, cucina and bar offers lunch on weekends and dinner seven days a week. Enjoy curated cocktails and complimentary olive oil soft-serve gelato with your antipasti, pasta or pizza. Shared plates also available, as is take-out.

The Getty Bagel

Giving new life to an abandoned Islington Street Getty station—think greenery, outdoor seating and special parking for two-wheeled vehicles—this just-opened eatery offers a unique “Portsmouth Bagel” as well as coffee from Portland’s LayDay Roasters. And as if that isn’t enough, they make their own schmears with fun flavors! (thegettybagel.com)

shop

Support local entrepreneurs who help make the seacoast region a unique place to shop, whether it is for yourself or for a gift.

The Drift Collective

You can give local love to the seacoast by patronizing these locally owned shops!

Shop the Kittery outlets or the malls on the outskirts of Portsmouth if you want the familiarity of chain stores. But locally owned businesses give visitors a true taste of the region with goods curated by those who know the area the best. Patronizing them supports entrepreneurs who bring a little unique seacoast area spirit to their offerings.

Alie Jewelers has been selling high-quality jewelry on the seacoast for decades. Summerwind Jewelers and Goldsmiths (summerwindjewelers.com) is a little younger but their unique pieces are worth a look and working with their designers on custom pieces is a singular experience.

If you are looking for something vintage to go show off that new ring or bracelet, head to Bow Street where you finish your fashion statement at Cotillion Bureau (cotillionbureau.com), Esta Resale (estaresale.com) or Wear House (wearhouse.com) on Market Street. City Shoes/Club Boutique (clubboutiqueandcityshoes.co) on Pleasant Street has long been the go-to spot for unique women's shoes and clothing. You must go to Christine's (christinesrye.com) for the best in home decor, clothing, accessories, jewelry and gifts. InsideOut (insidepotportsmouth.com) carries both men's and women's fashion. Men can enjoy a custom-tailored experience at J. Hilburn (jhilburn.com) in the Vaughn Mall at their locally owned Portsmouth location. Marathon Sports (marathonsports.com) has everything the distance runner needs. Kids of all ages will be delighted with the Market Square children's shop, G. Willikers! (gwillikersbooksandtoys.myshopify.com), Diversions Puzzles & Games (diversionsgames.com) and Whirlygigs Toy Shop (whirlygigstoyshop.com) in nearby Exeter. Novelty candy and gift shop Snap Quack Pop (snapquackpop.com) on Market Street in Portsmouth is a self-described "shop of fun."

If you would like to capture some seacoast to bring home and remind you of your vacation, stop by Kennedy Gallery & Custom Framing (kennedygalleryandframing.com) on Market Street and Todd Bonita Gallery (toddbonitagallery.com). Local Anchor 603 sells art and gifts with a local and regional focus. For cards that are art pieces and all things paper, Gus & Ruby Letterpress (gusandruby.com) in the middle of Portsmouth's Market Square is a don't-miss.

Everyone deserves flowers. Jardiniere Flowers (jardinereflowers.com) would be happy to help with bouquets, plants or gift boxes. Christine's Crossing in Rye (christinescrossing.com) is both home décor and clothing shop—all oh-so-chic. Also in Rye, Summer House Furnishings (summerhousefurnishings.com) is celebrating 25 years of helping create inspired interiors. Weekender House (weekenderhouse.com) offers design solutions from coastal chic to urban contemporary interiors.

Locally made organic soaps and other bath products and gifts will fill your basket at Portsmouth Soap Company (portsmouthsoaps.com). Prelude Boutique (preludeportsmouth.com) is a small shop filled with eclectic offerings of jewelry, bath & body and accessories made locally or afar but all fair trade. Self-care is critical and janegee (janegee.com) is there to help.

Société (societeapothecary.com) is where you will find all things that make you feel relaxed and well. The Spice & Tea Exchange stocks spices and teas as you might expect but also handcrafted seasonings (more than 85 of them!), salts and sugars. At the Salt Cellar (salt-cellar.com) you will find amazing things you didn't even know you needed (like Himalayan salt lamps). Self-described as "global spices, responsibly sourced and locally blended," Stock + Spice (stockandspice.com) will set you up with a large range of spices, pickles, relishes, jams, jellies, salts and much more.

Celtic Crossing (celticcrossingnh.com) and Ireland on the Square (see their Facebook page) in Market Square/Portsmouth are where to go to bolster your Celtic pride. You never know what you'll find that you can't live without at Emptio (emptioportsmouth.com); an incredibly unique collection of gifts, clothing and home accessories, much of which is coastal-inspired, awaits you.

Food is always a sure bet as a gift from your vacation. Stop by Kilwins (kilwins.com) in Market Square for a treat for yourself now and a treat for a friend back home. Long-time locals were thrilled at the return of Richardson's Market (richardsonsmarket.com) on State Street in Portsmouth where you will find necessities alongside must-haves. Terra Cotta Pasta (terracottapastacompany.com) in Kittery has a great variety of pastas and is surrounded by other great food shopping sites.

Shop for your vacation books at three new bookstores! Reedmor Books and Brews (reedmorbooks.com) near the Memorial Bridge also has a café/bar; Portsmouth Book Nook (portsmouthbooknook.com) at 32 Daniel Street are now open daily; and two-story The Booktenders (thebooktenders.com) on Route 1 in York is small but has a might offering of titles.

And if all this shopping has left you feeling in need of a little revitalization, head to The DRIPBaR (thedripbar.com) where you can choose from a menu of IV drip therapies to boost your energy and feel up for the next round of retail therapy. ☘

Rosebud Records

Anyone of a certain age knows that vintage vinyl records are the only way to listen to the great music you love. Independent record store Rosebud Records, newly opened on Islington Street in Portsmouth, sells the real deal as well as record players, CDs, cassettes, posters and "music listening accessories." 800 Islington St, unit 5, Portsmouth NH 03801, 603.937.2896

Perch + Petal

This boutique spin-off of their flagship shop, Bell Farm Shops in York, is full of garden-themed and backyard birding gifts. From garden statuary to rose bath bombs, jewelry, barware and so much more, you will find things you had no idea you needed in this unique store. (perchandpetalbybellfarm.com)

The Vibe Collective

As its name suggests, this collective of designers and artists share a creative spirit that exudes peace and comfort. From Tibetan singing bowls, baby crystal dragons, unique fashions, crocheted mushrooms and much more, you will find things here you will find nowhere else. (visitthevibe.com).

Step back in time as you sleep in these buildings to feel the presence of the past.

Historic buildings lend the solitude of time to those who sleep in one. A building that has been standing since before the Civil War, or even before the Revolution, has long protected its inhabitants from the coastal elements. Curved banisters, carved doorframes, solid wood doors—this is what awaits you in some of the most intimate and well-appointed overnight settings on the seacoast.

PORTSMOUTH

The Ale House Inn (larkhotels.com) combines history and high-tech. This unique inn is housed next to the Seacoast Repertory Theatre on Bow Street in the former warehouse built circa 1880 for The Portsmouth Brewing Company. Also a Lark property, the Hotel Portsmouth (larkhotels.com/hotels/the-hotel-portsmouth) at 40 Court Street, this 1881 Queen Anne style home with 32 guest rooms was originally built for businessman John Sise in what was then known as Haymarket Square. The Sailmaker's House (sailmakershouse.com) is a boutique inn in downtown Portsmouth. The original part of the building was built in 1801 and retains much of that history including perennial gardens. Several rooms on the first-floor level are handicapped accessible. The Inn Downtown (theinndowntown.com) on The Hill is one of several local "apart-hotel." Gorgeously appointed studios with fully equipped kitchens and laundry access are ideal for longer stays but one-night stays are also available. Martin Hill Inn (martinhillinn.com) is comprised of two nineteenth-century buildings and now has a contactless check-in and check-out system. Just a few minutes' walk to an evening downtown, their beautiful woodland shade garden is a relaxing place to enjoy a glass of wine before heading out. A relative newcomer, the Hotel Thaxter (hotelthaxter.com)—whose name is inspired by the Seacoast's beloved nineteenth-century nature writer, poet and artist Celia Thaxter whose father opened an early resort hotel, The Appledore House, on the Isles of Shoals in 1848—calls an 1860 former First Congregational Church and then Salvation Army wood-and-brick building home. This upscale 15-room hotel offers valet parking. The Davenport Inn (thedavenportinn.com) is also on Court Street. Recently fully restored, guests are greeted with grand staircases, ornate moldings, and original hardwood floors. Also a self-check-in hotel, free parking is available for one vehicle per reservation. Not itself in a historic building, The Sheraton Harborside (marriott.com/en-us/hotels/psmsi-sheraton-portsmouth-harborside) offers a ringside seat to the historic working waterfront of Portsmouth and the past and current maritime commerce that made the city what it is. Offering on-site dining and parking, the hotel is also easy walking distance to the heart of Market Square.

INSIDER SCOOP

NEW CASTLE

It's hard to believe but the grand Wentworth by the Sea Hotel (opalcollection.com/wentworth) was even more expansive when it was built in 1874. Listed on the National Register of Historic Places, the massive Gilded Age resort is now a part of the Opal Collection. This seaside gem offers restaurants, spa, pool, tennis courts, a nearby golf course and marina making Wentworth by the Sea a special place indeed. The Great Island Inn (greatislandinn.com) is one of the growing number of boutique "apart-hotels" on the seacoast. Six guest studios in an 1820s renovated home on the lovely island of New Castle have fully equipped kitchens and in-room laundry for extended stays for work or pleasure. This is a sister inn to the Inn Downtown and the Rye Motor Inn.

KITTERY, MAINE

Just on the Maine side of the Memorial Bridge is the brick Water Street Inn (waterstinn.com). This boutique inn along the Piscataqua waterfront is a pleasant walk to both downtown Portsmouth and Kittery Foreside. Two of the eight rooms are in a renovated 1700s barn. Although staff is always available, the inn is self check-in with a key code so you can arrive at your convenience.

RYE

The Rye Motor Inn (ryemotorinn.com) historic 1950s motel bills itself as an adults-only micro resort. The apart-hotel units offer self check-in and are appointed to allow for a comfortable work environment from which you can step out the door and enjoy the nearby beaches. And dogs are welcome! Also on site is The Swim Shop with beach wear for men and women. The Rye Motor Inn is a sister inn to the Inn Downtown and Great Island Inn. 🚣

Hotel Thaxter

Named for the Seacoast's beloved nineteenth-century nature writer, poet and artist Celia Thaxter, whose father opened an early resort hotel, The Appledore House on the Isles of Shoals in 1848. The Hotel Thaxter resides in the restored 1860 former First Congregational Church and then Salvation Army brick-and-wood building. Valet parking available. (hotelthaxter.com)

Silver Fountain Inn

Presiding in an 1871 three-story Victorian on Silver Street in Dover, the Silver Fountain Inn features Italian carved plaster ceilings, trompe l'oeil canvas wallpaper, French sandstone fireplaces but all modern amenities guests would expect. Relax in one of the beautifully appointed rooms and then take a full tea service in the tea parlor. (silverfountaininn.com)

Star Island Hotel

Stay at the hotel on Star Island at the Isles of Shoals for a truly memorable experience. Your overnight stay can be part of the many and varied conferences and gatherings hosted on the island or you can book a night or two based on availability. The Isles of Shoals is steeped in history and was once one of the busiest commercial ports in the region. (starisland.org)
